Foreword

One of the main purposes of the Mennonite Yearbook is to provide a statistical account and record of our denomination. The Yearbook is unique in its Ministerial Directory which serves as a directory of ordained men for Mennonite bodies in all parts of the world.

Each year the Yearbook acquaints our people with the changes and progress in the various areas of the activities of the Mennonite Church. Personnel is constantly changing in our missions, organizations, and institutions. New activities are being added to the total work of the church. The membership of the church along with enrollments in Christian educational agencies continues to show statistical increases. Through a study of the comparative statistics in the Statistical Section, one can note the various trends.

The Yearbook as a statistical presentation of the church at work emphasizes that back of the statistics are consecrated Christian men and women active in the greatest task in the world—giving the Gospel to the lost world.

As we carefully peruse the pages of the 1952 Mennonite Yearbook we shall find ourselves impelled to thank God that we have the privilege to share in the task of sharing the Gospel with the unsaved about us and in foreign lands.

Again we are most grateful to all officials and others who have provided information for this issue. We trust that the 1952 Mennonite Yearbook will be more serviceable to the church than ever before.

Mennonite General Conference

Paul Mininger, Moderator

General Conference in 1951

"The Living Church in the World Today" was the theme of the Mennonite General Conference held at Goshen College, Goshen, Ind., August 22-24, 1951. The sessions of the Conference were characterized by an earnest devotion to Jesus Christ as Lord and Head of the church. There was an evident desire on the part of the entire Conference body to follow the guidance of the Holy Spirit in solving the perplexing and difficult problems that are confronting the church today. The addresses delivered at the Conference were of unusually high quality.

One of the significant actions that was taken was the revision of the 1937 statement of the General Conference on Peace, War and Military Service. This revised statement is entitled A Declaration of Christian Faith and Commitment with Respect to Peace, War, and Nonresistance. It deserves a careful reading and study by every member of the church and should be widely distributed as a witness to our faith among those who do not share our conviction.

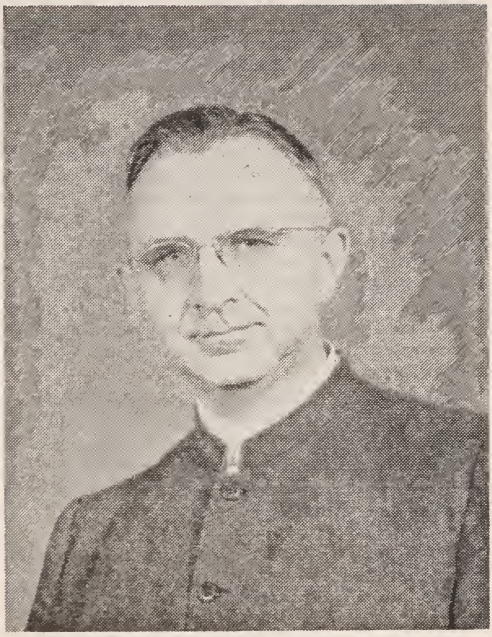
The Conference decided to establish a "Ministerial Committee" as a standing committee of General Conference. Its purpose is to give guidance to conferences and congregations in policies and standards relative to the work of the ministry in their service to the Church.

The Life Insurance Study Committee gave a thorough report on its study of the ethical implications of life insurance. There was a lengthy discussion of the report and the committee was retained to continue its work and bring back recommendations to the next General Conference.

A plan was approved to simplify the financial program of General Conference by having a unified budget for all committees operating under General Conference. Under this plan the General Conference treasurer will present the total financial needs to the churches rather than having a number of committees each making its own appeal for funds.

Work of the General Council

The General Conference has now operated for two years under the revised constitution which provides for a General Council. During these two years, under the direction of Oscar Burkholder, Moderator, the General Council has begun to find its place in the work of the church. This body meets semiannually to carry on the work that has been assigned to it. The membership on the General Council consists of one representative from each district conference which is eligible for membership in General Conference, one representative from each general board in the church, and one representative from each standing committee or commission of General Conference. The members of the Executive Committee of General Conference are members of the General Council, and the Executive Committee serves as a steering committee for the General Council. At the present time all district conferences, which are eligible for membership in the General Council, with the exception of one, are participating in its work.



Paul Mininger, Elected Moderator 1951

On December 7 and 8 the General Council had its fall meeting in Chicago. Following the pattern set during the first two years, adequate time was taken at the beginning of each session for Bible study and prayer to prepare the members of the Council for the discussion and decisions that would need to be made later.

One of the functions of the General Council is to give opportunity for committees and boards of the church to take counsel from a representative group of church leaders. The Peace Problems Committee brought certain of its concerns to the General Council at the last meeting. The General Council approved the plans of the Peace Problems Committee for meeting the needs of the young men who are subject to the present draft law.

The Budget and Finance Committee brought its first report to the General Council. A budget was adopted and plans were approved for raising funds necessary for the current year.

The Committee on Co-ordination of Church Program reported its plans for presenting the over-all program and needs of the general church agencies. This unified picture of the total church-wide program will be presented through a monthly release in the Gospel Herald, a printed pamphlet and a poster for distribution to local congregations, and by visits to district conference meetings by representatives from the church-wide organizations.

It is also the purpose of the General Council to provide opportunity for church organizations and committees having common problems to work at them co-operatively. An illustration of this type of work which the General Council does is seen in the report of the Committee on Audio-Visual Aids which was given at the fall meeting of the General Council. The Board of Education faced the problem of using audio-visual aids in Christian schools. The Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work was concerned with the extent to which visual aids should be encouraged in the local churches. The Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities has used visual aids on the foreign mission field and also in bringing missionary information to the people in the home churches. The Mennonite Publishing House is prepared to sell equipment and materials which are useful in the work of the church. The General Council provided an opportunity for these organizations to co-operate in the study of this problem.

The increasing interest in lay activity in the church and particularly in lay evangelism, has resulted in the Mennonite General Conference asking the General Council to determine where responsibility for guidance and directions of this work should be placed. This matter will be given thoughtful consideration during the next year.

The General Council is sponsoring a Study Conference on Prophecy in the spring of 1952.

Plans are already under way for the next General Conference to be held August 26-30, 1953. The first two days will be devoted to business and will be primarily for delegates and the ministry. These business sessions will then be followed by three days of conference which will be planned for the inspiration and instruction of the entire membership of the church. Arrangements will be made to entertain the large crowds of people who will be expected to attend from all parts of the United States and Canada. No decision has yet been made as to the place where these meetings will be held.

The General Council expressed its concern that the church do all that it can to keep in touch with the young men of the church who have entered the armed forces of the country. Although it was felt that this is primarily the responsibility of the local congregation, the Peace Problems Committee was asked to give consideration to the possibility of its rendering some service in this area.

The work described above indicates something of the nature and scope of the work of the Mennonite General Conference and its General Council. This organization is a concrete expression of the fellowship and unity that exists among us. It is a tool for the church to use in carrying out the total task which has been given her by Jesus Christ. It is the concern and prayer of all those who carry the responsibility of Mennonite General Conference that it may help the church to remain loyal to her living Lord.

Fifth Mennonite World Conference

Paul Erb

An event of importance in 1952 to Mennonites everywhere will be the Fifth Mennonite World Conference, to be held near Basel, Switzerland, August 10-15. Attending will be 200 delegates from a number of countries. Many who are not delegates will also be there. The sessions will be held at St. Chrischona, beautifully located within sight of the snowcapped Alps. The buildings are ample for taking care of a considerable group.

This conference is not an official body, and it has no jurisdiction over participating groups. But it is expected to be helpful, as previous conferences of the kind have been, through its interchange of views and in the expression of conviction on the various interests of Mennonites throughout the world. There will be speeches and discussions on various phases of the life and work of the church. All delegates will be able to understand what is going on, for although German will be the official language of the conference, it is expected that there will be facilities for immediate translation through earphones.

Mennonite General Conference at its session in August, 1951, at Goshen, Ind., approved a plan for certifying as many as fifty delegates from the branch of the church which that conference largely represents. At this writing it seems probable that this quota will be nearly filled. Most of our conferences and church-wide boards and committees will be represented.

Travel arrangements are being made by the Bender Travel Agency and Menno Travel Service. The larger number of our delegates will sail for Europe on the Queen Mary on July 30, and return on the Georgia early in September. After the conference there will be conducted tours through Europe and to Palestine. Mission board, relief, and publication officials will be studying conditions that bear upon their work. Many of our church leaders will be making contacts on an unusual scale this summer. There will be many opportunities for testimony and witness. May God's blessing be upon the seed sown.

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

John H. Mosemann, President

Throughout the past year the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities has again enjoyed abundant blessing and guidance of the heavenly Father who Himself is the founder and director of all the church's outreach program. Throughout the year this awareness that our work is the work of God for which He must supply direction and resources has been constantly upon us. Man can never replace God. He can only respond to the invitations the Almighty has extended for us to be His fellow workers.

Foreign Missions

We have in a sense during the past year had to shrink our foreign mission ministry. It is with great gratitude that we have witnessed the home-coming of all of our workers of the China field after some months of anxious waiting. All of these workers have benefited greatly by their return to a freedom which was so long denied them in their later experience in China. It has been our joy to see new workers sent out to each of our other foreign fields. The increase is not large but it is gratifying that there is the constant stream of available personnel to staff our various efforts throughout the world.

From each of the fields there is gratifying news of advance in one way or another. The church in the older fields struggles to maturity seeking to develop its own powers of guidance and support. While there is a great deal yet to be desired, the efforts and struggles which are known best to those involved in them are gratifying to behold.

Home Missions

In the advance of the church in the home field it is also cause for gratitude that several of our city churches are moving closer to the ideal of self-support and maintenance. We are very grateful for such progress and covet it in the case of each of our established fields of witness in the city. We have added two city fields among the Negro population—the one in Saginaw, Mich., the other in Cleveland, Ohio. Both these efforts were initiated by relatively small congregations who carried through a long and exacting preliminary labor which well validated the decision for the Board to assume responsibility in these areas. The additions to the church in both these new fields is, we trust, indicative of a healthful and normal growth which shall characterize their future life and witness.

During the year, too, we have decided to expand our facilities in two other of our city missions. Both of these are in Chicago. For the Mexican witness there we are remodeling the property which the Board has held for some time in order to utilize its facilities for worship and instructional purposes. For our Negro witness in Chicago we have felt it important that we so establish ourselves as to command the respect and the response of the Negro people of that city. We are fortunate in being invited to establish our new center for Negroes in the midst of a prospective new housing unit which will mean a great deal for our strategic contact with these people.

Other cities are also open to the Gospel and we cannot but pray the Lord of the harvest that He will provide both laborers and divine leading as to the planting of the Gospel in other cities of our home land.

During the past year our Board Treasurer has set up a new scheme of financing and reporting the work of our city missions. Our city workers have been very co-operative in fitting into this new arrangement and it is quite apparent that we are making progress in the handling of our city mission plants. Support shares are now available for our workers at home as well as those in the foreign fields and it has been gratifying to have our church respond by taking up these supports.

Charitable Institutions

This area of our program has the good counsel and general guidance of the Child Welfare Committee. Progress has been made in the renovation of our West Liberty Children's Home and in Kansas City we now have available for our superintendent a desirable dwelling which will make for better operation in that institution. During the past summer Mennonite Youth Village again made its very vital contribution to the life of many underprivileged boys and girls. Besides this it has given a sizeable number of young people an opportunity to come close to the needs of boys and girls and thus broaden their own vision and liability to call to serve in this important ministry.

The ministry to the aged as well as the hospital efforts are continuing in much the same scope as heretofore. Through these avenues a great number of persons have opportunities to express their Christian love and concern to others and those who are the recipients of this Christian service are confronted by tangible evidences of the practical bearing of Christianity on life. These services should be considered as far above mere charity. They are designed to make life liveable and desirable for people who otherwise would have a difficult road to go.

Publicity

In the past year we have transferred our publicity office from Scottdale to Elkhart. This makes it possible to tie in very much more closely with our Secretary's office the total publicity program for our Board. We have had to expand both our facilities and personnel to carry this extra assignment at Elkhart. The new arrangement has been working out very satisfactorily. It is quite obvious that if our people are expected to rally to the support of the missionary program they will need to receive adequate information and stimulus from the fields so that there might be a basis of conviction for all the giving and praying that is required to make our Gospel ministry effective.

Looking Ahead

We are constantly reminded that the work of the church and of the kingdom of God dare at no time and place become static. With the increase of world tensions and unalleviated needs on a global scale the church must become increasingly sensitive and responsive to the challenges that pour in from every side. This requires, of course, a fresh survey of the field which is the world. It requires that we should seek out the mind and will of God in order that we might be directed in a forward expanding movement for the honor of His name. It requires, too, that our constituency must be informed and alive to the growing needs and the growing demands for support of the Lord's work.

In the future, therefore, we are bound to look in these two directions—we must look to God above all for the day-by-day counsel and direction which is His alone to give and we must look to the church to furnish concretely that which God requires for the maintenance and extension of the work of His kingdom. With confidence in both we launch ahead for the new year, casting our bread upon the waters knowing that it shall be found even if after many days. Goshen, Ind.

Mennonite Relief Committee

Levi C. Hartzler, Secretary for Service and Relief

Beginning of MRC

The Mennonite Relief Committee was organized during Christmas week of 1917 as the Mennonite Relief Commission for War Sufferers at a missionary conference at the Forks Church near Middlebury, Ind. The Commission was composed of representatives from the various district conferences throughout the church and carried on relief work first among European war sufferers and later among war refugees in the Near East. In 1920 it co-operated with relief agencies of other Mennonite groups in organizing the Mennonite Central Committee to carry on Russian famine relief and give aid to Russian Mennonite refugees.

The original constitution contained a provision that the Commission should be dissolved when the purpose for its organization had been fulfilled. Therefore, at the 1925 annual meeting of the Commission, a recommendation was passed calling on the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities to make the Commission a standing committee of the Board because of the close relationship between relief work and missions. The Board acted favorably on that recommendation at the 1926 annual meeting and changed the name to the Mennonite Relief Committee. Since that time MRC has been elected annually by the Board.

MRC is responsible for organizing relief and service activities under the Board, co-operating with MCC in the all-Mennonite program, and collecting and soliciting all funds from the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities constituency for relief, refugee rehabilitation, and voluntary service. Since 1949 a full-time secretary has directed the work of the Committee. During 1951 the office staff was enlarged by the addition of an administrative assistant in the relief and service office, Dorsa Mishler. Don Snapp also served part of the year in the area of summer service, and was appointed as full-time staff assistant as of September 1.

Relief

The Ethiopian relief program, begun in 1945 and 1946, was turned over to the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities on March 31, 1951. Final settlement, however, was not effected until the end of the year due to the slowness of the Ethiopian government in reimbursing MRC for money invested in the Nazareth hospital as per previous agreement. However, since April 1, 1951, the Eastern Board took full administrative responsibility for the Ethiopian work, MRC loaning its workers to them until the completion of each worker's term.

MRC continued to contribute monthly throughout the year to the relief and refugee program of MCC as funds were available. This is in keeping with the agreement established at the time that the MCC work through the relief agencies of its constituent groups rather than going directly to the constituency for funds. Funds for relief and refugee work are sent by local congregations to their district conference treasurers or direct to the Treasurer, Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, for forwarding to the MCC headquarters at Akron, Pa. Members of the MCC from the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities constituency are elected annually by MRC and recommended to the Board Executive Committee for appointment.

Voluntary Service—Long Term

The year 1951 saw the establishment of two more long-term service units: La Junta Hospital Unit and the Navajo Indian Migrant Unit. In addition plans were laid for a long term unit at Mathis, Texas, among the Spanish-speaking Americans, to begin on January 1, 1952. Meanwhile the former units at La Plata, Puerto Rico, and Kansas City, Mo., were enlarged due to increased pressures on conscientious objectors and growing interest in the voluntary service program.

Puerto Rico: Two young men were sent in May to assist with the construction work of the enlarging mission-service program, and an additional man was added to the farm program in June. Plans were also made to send more men to work in the sanitation program as soon as the regulations for work projects under the new draft law were clarified. These regulations did not materialize during the year, and at year's end the Committee was still waiting for more definite word before enlarging the program in Puerto Rico. The unit reached its maximum strength on October 15, 1951, with a total of 37 workers. Twelve workers were sent to Puerto Rico during 1951, either as replacements or to fill new posts.

The Executive Secretary of MRC accompanied a representative from the Mission Board to Puerto Rico early in the year to work on the problem of closer unity between the mission and service program. Plans were laid during that visit to establish an over-all Puerto Rico Executive Committee to direct the total mission-service program on the island. Details of this plan were worked on throughout the year and the plan finally put in operation by the year's end. The La Plata Mennonite Project continued to serve the people of Puerto Rico in the areas of medical service and sanitation; agricultural service; and community service, which included a kindergarten, community paper, and industrial projects, such as the sewing project, which gave employment to local residents.

Kansas City Hospital Unit: During the year the number of men in the unit so increased that it was necessary to rent rooms outside the unit home. These rooms were located near by in order that the men could board in the unit home and participate in unit life. Members of the unit serve as attendants in the hospital, which has 15 wards and 500 beds. They also assist in the mission program at the Mennonite Gospel Center under the direction of the pastor. The maximum strength of the unit at any one time during the year was 16 members.

La Junta Hospital Unit: The first member joined this unit in February. Others joined in March, April, May, and June with a few coming in later so that by October 15 the unit numbered 25 young people serving the hospital on a voluntary service basis. Their service makes possible more hospital care for the needy of the community since the hospital credits savings in wages to a donated services fund, which is then used to pay for hospital care for the poor. Members of the unit participate in the local church program and carry on certain activities of their own, such as jail services.

Indian Migrant Unit: Seven young people served among the Navajo Indians in the Grants, N.M., area from June to November. The Indians leave the reservation and come to a farm labor camp operated by a local farming concern. The camp in which the unit worked contained from 135 to 140 families. Service workers provided much needed health service, education and recreation for the children, and Bible teaching for both children and adults. In November the unit moved to Phoenix, Ariz., and began working in several camps west of Phoenix, two for Navajo Indians and one for Negroes. A request for Christmas bundles from our constituency brought in 600 bundles for Navajo children by December 15, with more coming in. Attempts are being made by the unit to find a permanent location from which to work.

Church Institutions: MRC assigned long-term voluntary service workers during 1951 to the West Liberty, Ohio., Children's Home, the Kansas City Children's Home, and the Mennonite Home for the Aged, Eureka, Ill. These workers take their place in the institution and render service on the regular voluntary service maintenance basis.

Service for I-O men: MRC is co-operating with MCC in setting up facilities to take care of I-O men who will want to serve their two years under the new draft law in some kind of church-directed service. Opportunities will be available in pax services, overseas voluntary service approved by the government for I-O men. These services will need to be subsidized completely by the church. The present voluntary service program is to be expanded by enlarging present units which will receive government approval and finding new ones. In the two above services men will work on the regular voluntary service maintenance basis. Voluntary service is partially self-supporting through certain earning units but will require some subsidy by the church. For men who wish to serve in government institutions and other accepted services and keep their full pay as provided under the new law, MRC and MCC stand ready to provide housing and educational facilities at cost as requested and needed. This is being called alternate service and will not require subsidy from the church.

Voluntary Service—Short Term

Young people who desired to serve for less than a year were assigned to service projects at Saginaw, Mich.; the Bethel Mission, Chicago; the Mennonite Home for the Aged, Eureka, Ill.; Hesston College Builders Unit; Goshen College Builders Unit; and the Mexican Mission, Chicago, Builders Unit. MRC attempts to find work for young people according to the time they have for service and the talents they have to dedicate to service.

Summer Service

The 1951 Summer Service program was the largest yet, with 127 young people serving in 25 units for periods from 6 to 12 weeks. The units included 10 city missions, 5 rural missions, 5 child welfare, 2 homes for the aged, and a colporteur team, an MYF youth team, and a student-in-industry unit. Races served included white, negro, and red; nationalities served were American, Italian, Lithuanian, Finnish, Mexican, and Swedish. A large number of Bibles and tracts were distributed and 86 souls accepted Christ through the witness of the service workers.

Finances

One offering a month for relief and service from each of our congregations is the present goal for giving. The MRC monthly budget is based on an average income throughout the year of approximately $12,000. This includes $2,000 monthly for refugees, $3,500 for MCC relief each month, and from $600 to $900 monthly for the support of young people from the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities constitutency serving in MCC voluntary service, in addition to taking care of the total MRC program as outlined above. Approval of pax service units and voluntary service units by the government for I-O men will require increased giving from our churches, but nothing like was required to support the CPS program.

Service Vision

We believe that the relief and service program should be based upon the example and teachings of Jesus as outlined in Matt. 9:35 to 10:8 and other New Testament passages. Jesus went about all the cities and villages teaching in their synagogues, preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. Even service by I-O men should give testimony to the Gospel in every way possible. Jesus instructed His disciples to pray, preach, minister to the needy, and give as freely as they had received. We, His twentieth-century disciples, can do no less.

Peace Problems Committee

Ernest W. Lehman

The Committee met on three occasions during 1951: March 10, August 7, and November 8. Primary concerns in these meetings included the draft law developments; peace literature writing and publication; preparation of a new conference statement on peace, war, and military service; and other related subjects.

The personnel of the Committee was changed somewhat in the appointment of Emerson L. McDowell, John H. Hess and J. L. Stauffer to succeed A. L. Fretz, C. C. Cressmen, and H. A. Diener.

The chairman of the Committee, H.S. Bender, was in Europe for a short period during the summer in the interests of the program planning for the 1952 Mennonite World Conference, and also to participate in a number of peace conferences. Brother Bender also led in the drafting of a Mennonite statement on nonresistance to be included with similar statements by other historic peace churches for presentation to the World Council of Churches.

The Draft Law

After long discussion in both houses of Congress, the Universal Military Training and Service Act was passed and became law on June 19, 1951. Under the Act the Selective Service draft was extended to 1955, the draft age lowered to 18½ and the term of active service extended to 24 months. Upon release from active service draftees are required to serve in the reserves for an additional 5 years. Persons who receive deferments will remain liable for the draft, if the reason for the deferment should cease, until they reach the age of 35.

Under this Act, a conscientous objector will no longer be deferred, but in lieu of induction he will be ordered by his local board, subject to such regulations as the President may prescribe, to perform for a period of 24 months "such civilian work contributing to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest as the local board may deem appropriate." There is no reserve obligation following this service term. No conscientous objectors were assigned to civilian work during 1951 because the Presidential regulations were not issued.

The UMTS Act also provided for the establishment of a National Security Training Commission which is responsible to draw up a detailed universal military training plan. The first report of this Commission was made on Oct. 29, 1951, and referred to the Armed Service Committee of the House and Senate. H. S. Bender was one of four Mennonite delegates appointed by the Mennonite Central Committee to present testimony on the UMT plan as soon as hearings are held.

Voluntary and Alternative Service

Information from government officials stated that when the presidential regulations dealing with the draft of CO's are completed, young men would be able to volunteer under the draft, and thus have somewhat greater degree of choice in the type of civilian work in which they are assigned. The Committee gave consideration to the implications of this information, and decided to send this information to all the draft-age brethren of the church. Decision was also made to proceed, through the Mennonite Central Committee, with a census of all the young men of the church in the age group of 17 to 25 years. The Committee recommended that the Mennonite Relief Committee should take initiative in the use of our young men who wish to volunteer for government approved service under church direction. It was also expected that help could be given to the young men of the church who would volunteer or be drafted to perform their alternative service in work other than church-directed service units.

Conference Statement on Nonresistance

The Committee felt that a new statement with respect to peace, war and military service should be prepared. The previous statement adopted by General Conference at Turner, Oregon, in 1937 has been very helpful during the World War II period and continues to represent the basic position of the church on military service. However, new concepts have emerged through the wartime experiences which strengthen particularly the positive and constructive aspect of nonresistance. To give more full expression to these convictions the Committee prepared "A Declaration of Christian Faith and Commitment" which was adopted by the General Conference in session at Goshen, Indiana, on Aug. 23, 1951.

Other Peace Literature

The book The Mennonite Church in the Second World War by Guy F. Hershberger was published, and likewise a reprint of the pamphlet Nonresistance in Colonial Pennsylvania by Wilbur Bender. Answer to War by Millard Lind is now off the press. Continued effort was made toward the completion of a book on Heroes of Nonresistance for youth.

Peace Essay Contest

This contest was repeated in view of the good response last year, and in order to foster a stronger emphasis of the nonresistant doctrine among young people of high-school age. This year twenty-one papers were submitted from eight Mennonite high schools. Each student submitting an entry received a copy of Wenger's Glimpses of Mennonite History and Doctrine; and the three entries judged best were awarded a small cash prize plus either Hershberger's War, Peace and Nonresistance or Gingerich's Service for Peace.

Finances

The treasurer of the Committee, C. L. Graber, reported a balance of $1369.74 on November 8, 1950. During the current year disbursements amounted to $10,382.78 while receipts totalled $9,348.52, leaving a balance of $335.48. The Committee agreed to discontinue separate fund solicitations from the congregations, and instead to co-ordinate its need for funds with the plan approved by General Conference in August, 1951, in which a combined appeal is to be made for various conference needs. The budget presented by the Committee called for $20,000 for the 1951-1953 biennium, which is the same yearly amount as the budget for 1950 had been.

Akron, Pa.

Mennonite Publication Board

Harold Zehr, Secretary

Organization

The Mennonite Publication Board was organized about forty years ago for the purpose of correlating the efforts of several church leaders who had a vision of the opportunities in the field of literature evangelism. Probably one of the greatest agencies in the unifying of the church in her witness has been her literature. Since that time, the responsibility of the Board has grown until at present the church owns and operates through its Publication Board, a modern printing establishment, together with editorial and administrative offices and a bookstore, at Scottdale, Pa., as well as four branch book stores located in larger centers of Mennonite population. with a net worth of about 1¼ million dollars.

The Board is composed of thirty members. Twenty-one are elected by the various district conferences; three by General Conference, and five by the Board as members at large. These together with the Publishing Agent comprise the Mennonite Publication Board. The present officers are: President, John C. Wenger, Goshen, Ind.; Vice-President, Harold Bauman, Orrville, Ohio; Treasurer, Marcus Clemens, Souderton, Pa.; Secretary, Harold Zehr, Rantoul, Ill.; and fifth member, E. C. Bender, Martinsburg, Pa.

Periodicals and Books

At present the Board officially sponsors ten periodicals in addition to the Herald Uniform Sunday School materials. About forty periodicals along with other items are also printed in our plant for various district conferences and Mennonite organizations. One of the major responsibilities of the Publishing House has been the production of materials for the teaching agencies of the church. Through the conscientious and sacrificial work of consecrated writers, editors, and personnel in the various departments, we are now offering materials for use in Sunday schools and summer Bible schools which have gained widespread recognition and acceptance by the general Christian public as well as our own church.

The production of books has also been on the increase during the past few years. Among the latest ones released are: Separated unto God, by John C. Wenger; Wings of Decision, by Eunice Shellenberger; God of the Hills, by L. J. Lantz; The Mennonite Church in the Second World War, by Guy F. Hershberger; Africa Answers, by Merle W. Eshleman; Middle-East Sojourn, by S. A. Yoder; Answer to War, by Millard Lind; Such Thoughts of Thee, by Miriam Sieber Lind. Several other books are in various stages of planning and production which should be forthcoming in the near future. While some of them are smaller items, others involve considerable effort and expenditures. Among the larger projects in which investments are being made are the Mennonite Encyclopedia and the late Brother J. B. Smith's New Testament Greek-English Concordance.

Literature Needs Studied

The Board has been endeavoring to study and meet the literature needs of the church. To assist in this our constitution provides for a Publishing Committee of five members (now consisting of Paul Erb, J. C. Wenger, Howard Charles, John E. Lapp, and John L. Stauffer), whose duty it is "to plan for the production of books that will meet the needs of the church and submit its recommendations to the Publishing Agent." During the past year we have also had a Periodical Study Committee whose duty it was to survey our periodicals to determine how well they are meeting the needs of the church. The Board received its report at the annual meeting held at Wayland, Iowa, February 20, 21, 1952.

With this expanding interest in the production of Christian literature, the Board and its Executive Committee has faced several problems in which we covet the prayers of the church. Costs of production have risen rapidly. Our payroll during the past five years has more than doubled. With the production of greater quantities of more expensive publications we find that our assets can quickly be tied up in inventories. Yet we are sure that the church demands and is entitled to the best quality literature we can produce. She deserves and must have literature that is Scripturally sound as the Mennonite Church interprets the Bible; literature that touches every area of Christian life and experience, and literature that is well written and attractively produced.

The Board invites the prayers and counsel of the church as it endeavors to serve to this end.

Rantoul, Ill.

Mennonite Board of Education

Harry A. Diener, Vice-President

Organization

"The entrance of thy words giveth light" (Ps. 119:130).

The truth of this Scripture gave vision to our brethren to start a school (now Goshen College) for Mennonite young people in 1894, and to organize the above-named board in 1904.

On pages 22, 23 you will find the organization of the Mennonite Board of Education. The officers of the Board appear first. Then you will see the district conferences which elect representatives on the Board. Other members of the Board consist of elected representatives from school alumni and General Conference and several are ex-officio members. Following the organization of the Board appear the Mennonite Research Foundation, our church colleges, high schools, and elementary schools.

These pages indicate first of all the interest which the Mennonite Church has in giving her youth an opportunity to receive Christian training in a Christian environment. Secondly, they show the large number of brethren and sisters who are being used by the church in these schools to carry on this part of its Christian nurture program. Thirdly, these pages show first a part of the responsibilities, concerns, and opportunities of the Mennonite Board of Education.

However, these pages do not show the many parents who are interested in the spiritual as well as mental development of their children; the large number of gifted young people who have a vision of the needs of the world in which they live and have a desire to prepare themselves for service for Christ; and the amount of money and energy required to make this program possible.

The year 1951 has been richly blessed of the Lord. Many young people who received help in our schools have entered fields of service in various areas of church work. There are those who have answered the call of the Lord to give themselves for service in our local churches. There are those who have dedicated their lives for service in mission fields. Others are serving in various vocations.

Building Programs Continue

The building programs have continued so that now part of the new girls' dormitory at Goshen is being used this year. Construction continues as funds and materials become available. The new Science Hall at Hesston is nearly complete. It is being used and is very much appreciated by both students and teachers. Plans are being made for dedication services early in 1952. Other schools are making progress in their building programs.

At its annual meeting held at the Conestoga Mennonite Church near Morgantown, Pa., October 18-20, 1951, the Board approved the following recommendation of the Executive Committee: "That since a sum of money is being made available for a separate seminary building on Goshen's campus, we recommend to the annual meeting of the Board that they authorize the Executive Committee to appoint a Seminary Building Planning Committee which is to proceed with plans for design and location. It is understood that the Executive Committee is authorized to begin with construction of the building during the year if the plans are ready and the money available."

The Board was happy to receive the final report of the Religious Survey Committee. This report gave evidence of much work that was done by each of the schools in making surveys. It is hoped that this study will now help each of the schools to see more clearly their task and will lend in strengthening the religious program. Their surveys have also shown that part of the religious problems of our schools are problems that arise out of our homes and home churches.

Personnel and Finances

The question of faithful and able personnel is ever a deep concern of the Board. It is only normal that in such a large program there is a constant changing of staff and teachers. For this task the Board and especially its Executive Committee seek the leading of the Lord and the prayers of the church.

The question of finances cannot be avoided. The costs of providing and maintaining plants are constantly rising. Many of the staff and teachers in our schools are making sizeable contributions to our program by working where they do, for much less than they could receive in state supported schools. The Board believes that the church is interested enough in her young people and schools to provide the means necessary to carry on this work for the glory of God.

The La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing has added a new person to its staff. Arlene Sitler has taken up her duties as Business Manager and Field Representative for the school. Already she has given good service in helping the school internally and has visited a number of churches. In her service as Field Representative she will endeavor to contact as many churches as she can to promote an interest in nurses' training. The Board feels that this profession is a worthy service for our sisters to enter. Our relief and mission programs are in constant need of nurses. It is hoped that Sister Sitler may be well received wherever she goes and that she may help many of our sisters who are thinking of entering nursing as their life's work.

Tribute to J. B. Smith

A word of tribute should be given to J. B. Smith whom the Lord called to his reward in this past year. Brother Smith served as instructor in the Bible department of Hesston College and Bible School two periods of several years each. He was the first president of Eastern Mennonite College. He served as a member of the Mennonite Board of Education and was vice-president of the Board for a number of terms. As a scholar Brother Smith could see the dangerous trends in education and often spoke words of warning which helped the Board in directing the education program of the church. Brother Smith's words of commendation and encouragement were also appreciated. The influence of his life and teaching upon many young people of the church is now being felt.

Hutchinson, Kansas

Mennonite Commission for Christian Education

J. J. Hostetler, Secretary-Treasurer

Every local church is confronted with a tremendous challenge to evangelize the lost and to nurture the saved. The Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ needs to be propagated in every area and to every generation. Christian workers need to be prepared to help in this universal task. The local congregation is responsible for this task in their area individually, and for the whole world, with other churches, corporately. To help perform this task the church has brought into existence such agencies as the Sunday school, young people's Bible meeting, summer Bible school, weekday Bible school, young people's institute, summer camps, literaries, Mennonite Youth Fellowship, etc. The church has also taken an active interest in directing spiritual life and growth in the areas of the home, junior activities, training of workers, missionary concerns, and Christian singing.

To plan literature materials needed by these agencies and areas of work, to correlate and integrate the various avenues of service, and to give aid to the local congregations and district conferences in these tasks, the members of General Conference have set up the Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work. The Commission is composed of twelve members, ten elected by General Conference, and two chosen by the Commission. The Commission is organized with a secretary for each of these agencies or areas of work. Consult the section on "Church Organizations" for names and details. The Field Secretary is appointed to represent the Commission in the churches and to direct the working of the group. The Commission meets twice a year to review and plan the program and needs of the various agencies and areas of service.

Curriculum Committee

This committee of five members, three representing the Commission and two appointed by the Publication Board, is responsible for the advance research and planning of all course materials for use in the local church. They also review and adapt the International Uniform Series of Sunday-school lessons to the needs of our church.

They plan and organize our graded Sunday-school materials for the writers. They have also planned and organized our summer Bible school materials, Christian workers' training courses, Program Builder, and are now working on weekday Bible school courses. They seek to maintain a Biblical and evangelical emphasis along with sound pedagogical principles and a correlated program in all of our materials. Theirs is no easy or simple task.

Sunday School

The annual report of the Sunday school in the "Statistical Section" should be carefully examined and compared with those of previous years. This report indicates a numerical growth in our church, perhaps more so than in spiritual areas, such as Bible reading and family worship. During the past ten-year period, our schools in the United States and Canada, increased from 490 to 601, or 23 per cent. The enrollment increased over 55 per cent to the present high of 88,153 pupils.

The revised lesson materials are being used widely and appreciated. Additional aids are available for local use, such as census cards, enrollment cards, Herald class record books, and the monthly pages in the Herald Teacher. Plans are being formulated to call together all Sunday-school workers in a church wide conference. The purpose of this conference is to share experiences, have workshop sessions, and to stimulate greater effort in this field of service.

Young People's Bible Meeting

The Sunday evening service is perhaps the most varied of all our meetings. Lacking uniformity makes it difficult to record statistics, or to provide an overall program that is flexible to local needs. Perhaps this is as it should be. However, this also places greater responsibilities on local leaders to maintain an active and constructive service. The Program Builder has been serving as a great help to local leaders. In a recent survey made by the Secretary of Young People's Bible Meetings a wide and divergent interest and attitude concerning the pattern and purpose of the young people's Bible meeting was shown. However, nearly all reported that an active Sunday evening service should be maintained. Perhaps a restudy of objectives and purposes locally is necessary. Such a study would help locally to clarify the type of meeting that each congregation should have. The Commission Secretary is making further studies in this field this year.

Summer Bible School

More and more local churches are utilizing this agency for the thorough and intensive nurture of the boys and girls. Our number of schools has been steadily increasing each year. More mission or outstation schools are also inaugurated each year. More non-Mennonite people are contacted through this means than any other agency. Out of a total pupil enrollment of 68,252 last year, 39,424 were of non-Mennonite people. Our new materials are of the best, and are being widely used by other church groups. The materials are now complete for all courses including the new manual for superintendents.

Weekday Bible School

This agency has not been used by our local churches as it might be. The weekday Bible school takes on several forms: 1) Regular classes taught by a minister, or Christian worker, during a certain period in public school each week. 2) Classes taught at the church while children are released from school for a regular period each week. 3) Classes taught at the church after school dismissal on a regular basis each week. 4) Classes formed and taught during the evening regularly each week. For effective work these classes need a regular course of study graded to the pupils. They also need good teachers and methods comparable to those used in school or summer Bible school. While informal midweek Bible studies in connection with prayer meetings and adult groups are good, the regular weekday Bible school program is much more efficient and effective. New materials for these courses are being planned. They are to be integrated with our Sunday school and summer Bible school courses to prevent overlapping.

Christian Workers' Training

With the great need our churches have for teachers and workers, a training program in each church is vital. To meet this need a series of courses and program of studies have been provided. A manual describing this program and steps in arranging for a course in each local church have been prepared and distributed. Additional copies are available upon request. Large or small, every congregation can have a training program to prepare needed workers. Certificates are given for satisfactory completion of courses.

Missionary Education

The Commission co-operates with the general Mission Board in providing mission study courses for use in local congregations. Missionary information and publicity is also provided for use on spring and fall missionary days. Other services of this agency include promotion of youth missionary projects, missionary savings banks, quarter investments, and missionary outposts. Churches are encouraged to provide mission study courses for their Sunday evening or midweek services. Informed churches are missionary churches.

Church Music

Through various contacts and music conferences this agency has discovered that singing schools in local areas are essential if we would maintain an adequate music program for our congregations in unaccompanied four-part singing. People need to be taught how to read music, particularly children and young people. A manual is being prepared to help local music leaders in directing the singing schools for local congregations. Often music teachers, choristers, and chorus directors desire help in selecting and purchasing special music. The Secretary of Church Music is able to provide this assistance. Write him when in need.

Home Interests

One of the great needs today is for more and better Christian homes. This calls for an informed parenthood, family worship, a definite home teaching procedure, and proper social relationships. Special literature and helps for parents and church leaders are being planned and will be distributed during this year. Other articles on "Building Christian Homes" will continue to appear in our church papers. A bibliography on materials for the Christian home will be compiled for use by anyone seeking helps. Home conferences are being encouraged.

Young People's Activities

This area involves literaries, Mennonite Youth Fellowship, summer institutes, camps, and youth conferences. The MYF program is meeting a great need in providing activities in all areas for Christian youth. It is a movement whereby young people find themselves spiritually and share in developing their convictions and wholesome attitudes along Christian principles. Local youth organizations such as literaries, young people's Bible meetings, missionary bands, etc., can affiliate and receive the help, guidance, and direction for spiritual expression without forming a new organization. Small groups may also participate. In co-operation with the voluntary service program this field will become increasingly more important in light of present world conditions.

Junior Activities

To maintain a social relationship that is Christian and loyal to the local Church, special attention needs to be given to the juniors. While the junior sewing circles have made some provision for the girls, very little has been accomplished for the boys. Some churches have organized craft work, clubs, missionary gardens, and summer camps. Others have been asking for help. To provide guidance and help to local leaders a manual is in the process of preparation that will cover all these needs.

Conclusion

During the years 1951 and 1952 the major emphasis of the Commission is "Building Christian Homes." The home is basic in the social structure of a moral and Christian society. Our churches cannot grow beyond the strength of the homes which compose the church. Every effort and influence possible should be brought to bear upon this emphasis. The Commission has decided to follow this emphasis in 1953 with "Christian Nonresistance."

The needs of the local churches are a definite challenge to the members and secretaries of the Commission. The Field Secretary has been asked to give half time to the study and promotion of the work for the time being. Local church and district conference leaders may seek the counsel and aid of the Commission at any time. Your encouragement and prayers will be greatly appreciated. Canton, Ohio

Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

Paul N. Kraybill, Editor of "Missionary Messenger"

Under the guidance and blessing of God the work of the Eastern Board has continued to go forward. In many areas the program is expanding in an effort to meet in some measure the needs that exist about us.

The work of missions is more than a Board project. It is the vital expression of a living church. Each member should be an active participant. We look forward to a continued growth of conviction and interest in this area.

Home Missions

Our proximity as a conference to a number of large eastern cities presents an unusual mission opportunity. Although we have been slow to recognize this, the past year has marked some significant forward moves in this area.

The building purchased in the Bronx, New York City, and renovated into an attractive chapel, was dedicated on March 18. This is our second mission point in the Bronx, and a third in the Negro Harlem area is in prospect. Three families have now moved to New York and are giving their time to this work on a self-supporting basis. The testimony of these "nonprofessional" missionaries has had a great influence. There are great possibilities for many more to live and work among the people. We praise the Lord for the growing church here with twenty-three baptized members.

In Philadelphia, a new building has been built largely by voluntary service labor. This is providing much more adequate facilities for the growing Oxford Circle Church. This work in a new federal housing project is a direct outgrowth of the Norris Square Mission Church.

Regular services were begun in Harrisburg in February by two interested groups, a congregation and a Christian service organization. Later in the year it was turned over to the Mission Board to be operated as a regular mission point.

A number of congregations are taking an interest in finding an outpost. The Churchtown congregation (Lancaster County) has opened regular services at Cambridge near by. Seven congregations sponsored outpost summer Bible schools in central and northern Pennsylvania this summer. An additional outpost Bible school was sponsored by an outpost Sunday school!

Foreign

There are at present sixty-seven appointed foreign workers. This includes nine from Africa who are at present on furlough and two under appointment for Ethiopia. In addition to this number there are eight persons serving in Ethiopia on loan from the Mennonite Relief Committee.

During the year the Board gave its approval to opening mission work in Italian Somaliland. This country in eastern Africa is under United Nations trusteeship and largely peopled by Moslems. At present there is no evangelical witness in the entire country. There are a few isolated remnants of the work that was carried on by the Swedish Lutheran Church from 1896 to 1935 when they were forced to leave.

Mission work was opened in Europe on September 13 when the first group of missionaries for Luxembourg arrived there. This first missionary party consisted of a family sent by this board and a couple appointed by the Conservative Amish Mennonite Conference who are co-operating in this project.

In Honduras and Ethiopia the first groups of converts were baptized. It is gratifying to see such evidence of fruitfulness in our mission program. A second missionary couple is expected to be on the field in Honduras before the end of the year. A missionary nurse opened a clinic during the year. Plans are underway for construction of a chapel in Trujillo. The mission has been fortunate in being able to purchase a lot on which a very sturdy wall suitable for a building has already been erected.

On March 31 the Mennonite Relief Committee hospital unit in Ethiopia was transferred to this Board. There are now four stations: Deder, Bedeno, Nazareth and Addis Ababa. Clinics, schools, a hospital, and work among the blind in Addis Ababa supplement the regular mission program.

In Tanganyika there is evidence of continued spiritual growth. The cultural and economic changes that are becoming apparent will be an important factor in the continued program of the church. The educational work of the church is growing. There are five village schools and approximately forty evangelistic centers and bush schools. Bible classes are being conducted in five government schools. The Missionary Children's School is looking forward to using the new school and dormitory unit at Nyabasi when it is completed. Plans are being made to enlarge the Shirati hospital to provide surgical facilities for Dr. J. Lester Eshleman who will be arriving on the field early in 1952.

Voluntary Service

Interest in voluntary service is rapidly growing. During the year volunteers served in New York City, Philadelphia, Tampa, northern Pennsylvania, and Alabama. They were engaged in various types of service such as builders' units, evangelistic teams, migrant work, and summer Bible school teams. One hundred fifty persons participated in this program.

The concept of voluntary service is proving to be a very valuable testimony in the areas where the workers have gone. Persons who are willing to give of their time without pay to make a spiritual contribution to others have a unique testimony that has been noticed and appreciated by the people among whom they have worked.

Other Activities

The Itinerant Evangelism Committee conducted twenty-two summer Bible schools in Alabama and fourteen in central and northern Pennsylvania. Eight of the latter were outposts of various congregations. The committee is looking forward to opening additional work in the South particularly in Georgia.

Over three hundred children from fourteen city missions spent a two-week period in country homes during the summer. This program provided an opportunity for the children to experience the blessings of a spiritual home environment.

The Jewish Evangelism Committee has been active in its field. Workers are now stationed at Pottsville, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and Steelton in addition to other part-time workers who are quite active.

Conclusion

There is a heartening evidence of a greater interest in the program of witnessing. Financial receipts for the year are considerably greater than last year, though many more funds are still needed. A number of young couples are considering the possibility of moving into other needy areas where they can give a witness along with their vocation.

More and more each one of us needs to realize the importance of each individual's part in the total program. We all are missionaries but with different types of responsibility.

I. Relief Section

The MCC had 117 relief workers in 16 foreign countries at the end of 1951—27 in South America, 24 in the Far East, 6 in the Middle East, and 60 in Europe. The two units in Shanghai and Hengyang, China, were turned over to the Chinese government in January of this year, and the unit in Italy was closed in July. A new area of work was opened in Korea in October. Because relief contributions are becoming less each successive year, the number of workers was reduced by 21 the past year. In 1950 there were 18 fewer than in 1949.

Far East

In Korea an MCC representative is working with the United Nations Civil Assistance Command, Korea, attempting a closer co-ordination between them and the work of the voluntary agencies in the hope that actual relief work by voluntary agencies may begin soon. The project for T.B. contact children in Hong Kong has been in operation for one year now with an average of 20 children. Hong Kong also serves as the Far Eastern area headquarters. In Java and Formosa the emphasis continues to be on medical clinics with two clinics on each island. The community center in Osaka, Japan, is the main point of interest there. Sewing groups and English classes give an opportunity of reaching a wide scope of people. One MCC nurse worked in a community hospital in India. Although the emphasis in the Far East is on medical and community center work, the spiritual needs of the people are not forgotten. Many Bible classes have been organized and religious meetings held.

Hashimite Jordan

The MCC shoemaking school for Arab refugee boys near Jericho had its first anniversary in September of this year. Woodworking classes were added recently. Clothing distributions, layette program, medical assistance, and women's sewing groups constitute the rest of the program. New services planned are additional crafts instruction, agricultural rehabilitation, and recreation.

Europe

In Germany the three community centers in Berlin, Kaiserslautern, and Heilbronn; the children's home in Bad Duerkheim; material aid distribution in Hamburg; the MCC-IRO team in Munich; the work in Espelkamp and Frankfurt progressed as in previous years. MCC headquarters in Austria were changed from Vienna to Salzburg with limited activities continuing in Vienna. The French Mennonites took over the Weiler children's home, but MCC will assist in its operation as long as their help is needed. Valdoie children's home and youth center continued as before. In the Netherlands the conference center at Heerewegen and the group in Amsterdam ministered primarily to the spiritual needs of the people there. The European area office is still in Basel, Switzerland.

Material Aid

Continuing appeals for food necessitated the reopening of the food collection centers this year. Four hundred fourteen tons of food were shipped during the fiscal year. Included in this total were 319 tons of flour and 66 tons of navy beans. The Midwest and Ontario were busy with meat canning activities at the close of the year, but these receipts were too late to be included in the 1951 fiscal year. The close of the year also found several communities meeting special miscellaneous needs.

One hundred eighty-five tons of new and used clothing and bedding and soap were received by the centers at Reedley, North Newton, Kitchener, and Ephrata. This quantity is conservatively evaluated at $420,000. Although the needs for clothing, bedding, and soap were just as great this year, contributions were 29 tons short of the previous year's receipts.

Reducing the size of the Christmas Bundle resulted in a record-breaking total of 28,103 received and shipped. Of these Canadians contributed 5,203 which were sent to Paraguay.

II. Mennonite Aid Section

Europe

The MCC refugee camp and processing center at Gronau, Germany, is still in operation. The two problems in Germany now are what to do with the 500 to 600 Russian Mennonites including 200 hard core cases and the approximately 6,000 Danzig and Prussian Mennonites. Most of them will probably be resettled in Germany while some will emigrate. The first family of the latter group, who are classed as "Volksdeutsche" and are not eligible for IRO assistance, entered the United States in October of this year. Canada and some countries admitted them sooner. The International Refugee Organization which has been in operation nearly four years will go out of existence early in 1952, but a new organization is being planned to take its place.

The amount of $33,195 in loan funds was received for Western Germany Danzig Resettlement. In connection with this program twenty-seven young men, known as pax services, from the United States went to Germany during 1951 to help in construction work at Espelkamp and Neuwied.

South America

In October, 1951, 442 Danzig and Prussian Mennonites from Germany arrived in Uruguay. Estancia Brabancia near Tres Bocas, 4,370 acres, was purchased for this group with the help of the Uruguay Settlement Associates in the United States. Until they can move to this site they will live at El Ombu with the immigrants who arrived there in 1948.

The MCC sponsored leper project was begun in Paraguay with financial assistance from the American Leprosy Missions. The experimental farm in the Chaco progressed in crop experiments and help to the colonies.

MCC homes in the cities of Asuncion, Montevideo, Sao Paulo, and Buenos Aires continue to serve as centers of Mennonite activities.

United States and Canada

In 1951, 67 Mennonites entered the United States bringing the total that have come after World War II to 285. The MCC sponsored 313 non-Mennonite refugees in 1951 which is about the same number as the previous year. About 400 Mennonites entered Canada this past year.

The first group of 21 Agricultural Trainees returned to Europe in May, 1951. The second group arrived in fall of the same year. The group included 20 boys and 6 girls. The girls for the most part were placed in Mennonite institutions.

III. Voluntary Service

During 1951 a total of 512 young people served in the MCC Voluntary Service program. Several hundred more found outlets for service in constituent group programs. The response of our Mennonite young people has been most gratifying. The service program is well established and has become an integral part of the outreach program of the Mennonite Church.

The Committee on Advice and Control has continued to give valuable service in guiding the service program. This committee will fill an even more important position as the Voluntary Service section is called upon to assist our young men in class I-O to find acceptable service assignments. This committee with the MCC-VS section will be responsible for the administration of the continuing Voluntary Service program and the developing pax and alternative service programs.

Long-Term Service

United States: During the past year one-year volunteers have served in fourteen MCC units in the United States. These units were serving in four general areas of need: the mentally ill in mental hospitals; delinquent and dependent children; migrant laborers; and in the area of race relations.

Units include Boys' Village, Smithville, Ohio; Brook Lane Farm, Hagerstown, Md.; Calif. Migrant Unit, Coalinga, Calif.; Chicago Settlement House, Chicago, Ill.; community service at Gulfport, Miss.; House of Mercy, Washington, D.C.; Industrial Home School Annex, Washington, D.C.; Kings View Homes, Reedley, Calif.; MCC Headquarters, Akron, Pa.; National Training School for Boys, Washington, D.C.; Stockton State Hospital, Stockton, Calif.; Reconstruction Unit, North Topeka, Kans.; Topeka State Hospital, Topeka, Kans.; Wiltwyck School for Boys, Esopus, N.Y.

During the last year MCC has co-operated with several of our constituent groups by helping them in their VS projects. These units were located at the following places: General Conference Mission, Oraibi, Ariz.; Meadowlark Homestead, Newton, Kans.; Brethren in Christ Mission, Bloomfield, N.M.

Foreign Service: Foreign service units include Bethesda Home, Vineland, Ont.; MCC Clothing and Food Center, Kitchener, Ont.; Work with STICA in Paraguay; and some personnel is also provided for Mennonite aid work in Mexico.

Orientation Schools: In 1951 there have been seven orientation schools with 104 volunteers. Because of the uncertainty of the future effect of the draft on volunteers, it is not certain how many schools will be held in 1952. Tentative plans are for one every six weeks.

Winter Service

As in previous years there have been many persons from our groups who have been able to serve from two to six months during the winter months. This year, as last year, we have absorbed these persons into the regular one-year projects. However, the interest in this type of service has shown a definite increase and it now appears that additional projects, similar to the summer projects, will have to be provided to care for this need.

Summer Service

There were 304 persons who served in the summer service program: 90 in the United States; 73 in Canada; and 141 in Europe. This was 32 less than during the summer of 1950. The 1951 summer program was somewhat smaller than previous years due to several factors. The two chief factors were (1) the uncertainty about the future for many of our college students and, therefore, they wanted to utilize this summer in helping to pay college debts and other obligations which they had; (2) we did not have sufficient help in the Akron office at the time when the program should have been promoted and volunteers processed. This handicapped us in preparing additional publicity for the program and also in processing applicants as well as the location of new projects.

The European program was again worked out in co-operation with the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges. In the six work camps (four in Germany, one in Belgium, and one in Switzerland) 141 young people participated. Of these, 123 were Europeans.

IV. Peace Section

The 1951 session of the United States Congress was marked by a new, very vigorous drive to enact legislation to establish a permanent universal military training plan, as well as to amend the existing Selective Service Act. Testimony in opposition to the principle of UMT was submitted to the Senate Armed Services Committee on January 29 by H. S. Bender, Chairman of the Peace Section. The Universal Military Training and Service bill which was finally adopted on June 19 set up a National Security Training Commission, and charged it with the responsibility of submitting a detailed UMT plan to Congress in the form of new legislation. The new bill also amended the former provision for conscientious objectors, abolishing deferment, and providing instead that CO's will be ordered by their local boards to do "work contributing to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest."

While this legislation was pending the Executive Secretary of the Peace Section was in constant touch with Washington to keep abreast of developments and to make representation as needed. These contacts have been continued since the new bill became law to represent Peace Section interests in the government's planning for CO services.

The work of the NSBRO continues on an increased scale. Elmer Neufeld, of Inman, Kansas, has joined the office staff as Associate Secretary and Peace Section representative. The office is now located at 1105 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. The MCC Peace Section and the Brethren Service Commission continue to be the main supporting groups of NSBRO.

V. Mental Health

Central Area Program

Plans for the third MCC mental hospital which is to be near Newton, Kansas, are taking shape. A cottage-style institution is envisioned in which each building will house approximately twenty patients. Although the plans are for an eventual five-unit institution, the first two buildings will be designed so that operation can begin with their completion. This hospital plans to meet the needs of senile psychotic patients and older people. Other types of treatments will be determined by the needs. Parallel to the creation of the institutional program will be the development of noninstitutional services of counseling and guidance.

Brook Lane Farm

The average number of patients per day has increased from 16.8 in 1950 to 26.3 in 1951. A survey shows that a greater per cent of patients are coming from areas other than Hagerstown; this does not mean, however, that there are fewer patients from the immediate vicinity. The accumulative number of patients since the opening date in January, 1949, is 487. Plans are to build a new wing to the present hospital building which will accommodate six patients requiring special security care. Moving the business office as well as the office of the psychiatrist and counselor and the reception room for guests out of the hospital to one of the former CPS barracks will release two rooms for patients. This year an additional house was purchased for living quarters for the administrator and his family plus six other people.

Kings View Homes

Kings View Homes was opened in March, 1951. Since that time they have admitted 46 patients. The present census is 23. The community has been cooperative in the placement of patients who may leave the hospital if they have a proper foster home. Plans are to build a small and simple building adjacent to the hospital for the accommodation of occupational therapy activities.

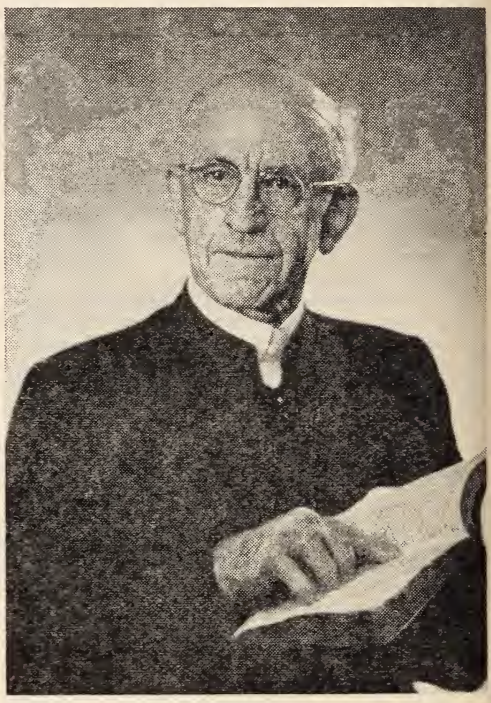
J. B. Smith, 1870-1951

J. Harold Smith

A gray-haired man sits alone at his desk. It is late afternoon. He is "lost" in his books. Books are all around him—they line the four walls, they stand in piles upon the desk and the table which is beside it. Nearest at hand are Bibles: Bibles in the original Hebrew and Greek, Bibles in a variety of translations. Pages—many pages are turned. The pencil moves for a time across the sheet. Eventually the weary man leans back and stretches. For a moment there is a stare into vacancy, and then the eyelids droop, the hands drop loosely, the lips part—and then deep slumber. Fifteen or thirty minutes later, with a little start, consciousness returns. Once again the pages turn and the pencil moves. Time passes on—twelve o'clock, one o'clock, perhaps two o'clock before lights go out for the night. Thus, particularly in later life, lived and worked a man who through studiousness of habit and intensity of devotion had disciplined himself into a pattern of living that enabled him to focus his attention on studies that for infinitude of detail and precision of particular were extremely exacting. But this was his meat and drink, this was his work, this was his life. Time of day or night came to mean little to him—his interest was in that dawn, that daybreak, which would usher in eternity of day, eternity of light.



J. B. Smith

Jacob Brubaker Smith was born at St. Jacob's, Ontario, Canada, April 9, 1870. Even as a boy he seemed not content to follow the conventional pattern of the life of those about him—he had a vision! Prominent among the brief notes that he had made, preliminary to the writing of a life story that was never written, are references to a "strange sense" of God's presence: "God speaking to me when about ten years old . . ."; "the vision in the field behind the barn when about twelve years old—an immense audience before me holding up their hands in need." Such a sense of God's imminent presence and His continuing providence carries throughout the entire list of events, as is evidenced by the title he gives to his autobiographical notes: "Miraculous incidents and experiences of my life." To relate in their order the step-by-step events and experiences which combined to determine the basic decisions which governed a long life of preparation and service would demand detail far beyond the scope of this paper.

On the one hand, there was "thirst after God," "passion for truth and the awful sense of life's responsibility" which seemed to demand the further preparation of an advanced education. Counteracting this call, at one time came the resolution "to get away from home restraints and Mennonite environment to see the Wild West to seek a fortune and fame, when about eighteen." But the prayers of a mother whose strong influence continued throughout a long life restrained him from carrying out this resolve. Another counteractive that must have had a powerful appeal was his father's offer to him, when he was twenty, of a 175-acre farm. During this same year, however, there came into his life the influence of a man who was to be instrumental in his conversion and was to leave on him a lasting impression of what God's grace and power can mean in a man's life. I have often heard Father speak of J. S. Coffman and of the impact of his personality and spirit upon those who heard and saw him. Later, while Brother Coffman was holding meetings at Ada, Ohio, his "stay with us boys" at the university was much appreciated.

Coming to the states at a time when relatively few Mennonite youths were attending institutions of higher learning, he first attended Elkhart Institute (Indiana) and then spent several years at Ada (Ohio Northern University). He took further advanced work from Oskaloosa College (Iowa) and Temple University. After leaving Ada he was dissuaded from a desire to attend Harvard by a request from Daniel Kauffman in 1897 that he respond to a call to the ministry from the Bethel Church at Garden City, Mo. Accepting the call, he served in the ministry and taught school there for several years. But back in Ohio there was still the girl whom he had met some years before and had not forgotten—Lena Burkhart. Marriage in 1901 was followed by the acceptance of a call from M. S. Steiner to the church at West Liberty, Ohio.

It was not in pastoral work, however, that Father was to do his greatest work. For a number of years he was to be intimately associated with the early development of two of our church schools. During seven years, 1910-1917, he served on the faculty of what was then Hesston Academy and Bible School. He later returned for two more years of service, 1927-1929. His return to Ohio in 1917, with the plan of settling down at Elida, was interrupted within a few months by an unexpected call to be principal of a church school which was just getting well started—the institution which is the present Eastern Mennonite College. After leaving Virginia, where he had served from 1917-1922, the family again moved to Elida, this time to set up permanent residence. However, he continued contacts with the church schools as a member of the Mennonite Board of Education, serving for a number of years on its Executive Committee.

Further part in the educational program of the church was realized through frequent assignments at Special Bible Terms, at church conferences, and in membership on various committees. One such assignment of particular interest to him was membership on the Music Committee. His interest in music, first evidenced in his references to youthful experiences in "learning to sing," carried throughout his life. Here again was the influence of a mother—a mother who at an advanced age sang 200 songs from memory (according to her daughter's count), and who died singing, as her son had predicted she would.

It was as a writer and lecturer that most of Father's time was spent during his later life. His first writing of booklet length was One Thousand Best Verses of the Bible, a selective compilation based, in many cases, on verses in both the original and in different translations. He spent considerable time both in lecturing on and in writing about nonconformity, particularly as it relates to attire. Many of his lectures were on the subject of prophecy and Revelation. His second largest writing project was a verse-by-verse commentary on the Book of Revelation. However, the work that occupied most of his time and that became the central thing in his life was his Greek-English Concordance of the New Testament. The idea for this unique and distinctive approach came to him during the 1920's when he was actively engaged in farming. The basic purpose of the whole work was to so clearly set forth the original meanings of Greek words that a much fuller sense of understanding and appreciation would be made possible, not only to ministers and Bible teachers but also to the average layman. Begun and carried on for a long time as an extra-hour project, this work, during his later life employed the great share of his time. It has been for some time in preparation for publication by the Mennonite Publishing House whose sponsorship during some years made possible the completion of the monumental task. Other manuscripts, either completed or only partially so, await further examination and evaluation by competent investigators.

As a father, "Papa J. B." always had a keen interest and concern in the welfare of his family. However, his frequent periods of absence from home, together with his constant occupation with studies, made it impossible for him to spend the amount of time with his family that he otherwise would have. Much credit is due the wife and mother whose additional work with gardens, with pigs and poultry, made possible the supplementing of an income which was often very meager; only careful frugality made possible the feeding and clothing of a family of seven children.

In reviewing such a life—so long and so fruitful—one feels a deep sense of gratitude that God gave so many years, years that ended, not in gradual decay, but years that closed in the strength of creative endeavor—and then the quick translation, on Sept. 23, 1951! Father seemed to greatly enjoy his later years. He and Mother were together in closer and more understanding companionship than ever before. Physically, he was strong up to the day of his death. He found recreation in working in his truck patches, in tending his dozen hens, in riding his bike on errands. The hand that wrote those last lines of the article, "The Eschatology of Menno Simons" which lay on his desk newly completed when the call came was seemingly just as firm and steady as it had ever been.

Father seldom talked about death—he seemed not to have death in his plans. In private conversations, in sermons, in prayers, he constantly spoke about being "ready for Thy appearing." As time for him moved quickly into eternity, his last audible words echoed what had been the great theme of his life and work—"Here we have no continuing city, but we seek one to come."

George M. Hostetler, 1883-1951

Ruth Hostetler

In the passing of George M. Hostetler, the church lost another faithful leader. He served for eleven years as minister of the Holly Grove Mennonite Church, Westover, Md., and for over eighteen years as bishop.

In July, 1914, he was ordained to the ministry at Oyster Point, Va., where he served the Providence Mennonite Church until September, 1922. He then moved to Westover, Md., where he served the Holly Grove Mennonite Church with Amos Ogburn, Aaron Mast, and Roy Payne under the oversight of John S. Mast. On Sept. 17, 1933, he was ordained by John S. Mast to the office of bishop at Holly Grove, where he served until his death.

He was born Dec. 2, 1883, near Allensville, Pa., and died Dec. 22, 1951, at the Peninsula General Hospital, Salisbury, Md. He grew to manhood near West Liberty, Ohio. On Oct. 31, 1901, he had a very clear conversion experience. On Sept. 5, 1911, he married Mary Belle Smucker. They spent the first year of their married life at Hesston, Kans. Following this they spent about a year and a half at the Canton Mennonite Mission, Canton, Ohio. Ten children were born into the home.

Brother George was of an unassuming disposition, always kind and considerate of others, a wise counselor, a sympathetic friend to all, and leader of his people. He never was so taken up with material things that he could not lay them aside to give counsel, sympathy, comfort, or whatever was needed to help others. His words and life gave courage and strength to many.

He was a staunch defender of our faith. He believed, lived, and taught simplicity and nonconformity. He was a great help to our young men of draft age, giving counsel and advice, helping them to understand the problems they were facing.

He had a burden for his people. When difficulties and trouble arose among them, he spent many sleepless nights in prayer, concerned for their restoration and peace. He was an earnest student of the Bible, a deep thinker, and a much appreciated teacher. I have never heard anyone explain more clearly the great truths of the Bible. When he read the Scriptures he read clearly and distinctly so that everyone could hear and understand what he was reading.

He was deeply interested in the work of our conference and always attended when possible. He was present at the Ohio and Eastern A.M. Joint Conference at Allensville, Pa., in May, 1951, and at the General Conference at Goshen, Ind., in August, 1951.

George M. Hostetler

He was a lover of children. He had time for the tiniest children, always speaking to them. They in turn loved him. As our Lord, he would say, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, . . . for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

His last sermon was preached on Nov. 4, 1951, at the communion service. He told us his prayer was that God would give him strength, that one more time he could minister to his people. And the Lord graciously answered that prayer.

He was a great lover of singing and often taught singing classes. The last young people's meeting he attended he was asked to lead a song. His physical strength was waning and he was hardly able to lead, but his spirit was in the work and he led with vigor.

As his body weakened his spiritual strength increased. He still gave counsel to our minister and deacon just a few days before his passing.

The family have lost a kind, loving, and faithful husband and father, the church a wise counselor, the community a loving friend. His children have received from him a goodly heritage. His life and influence will go on: "He being dead yet speaketh." —From an article and obituary in the Gospel Herald.

Separated unto God

By John C. Wenger

What does the New Testament refer to when it warns Christians against loving this world? Do Christians and non-Christians differ essentially as to speech, attire, recreational activities, organizational affiliations, attitudes toward possessions, and concepts of citizenship?

John C. Wenger has produced a clear, Scriptural discussion of the meaning of separation from the world. He covers dozens of areas in which nonconformity will be apparent in today's culture, clarifying issues and presenting eternal principles along with their changing applications.

A book you cannot afford to miss.

Can any logical answer be given to this tragedy?

Yet Christian youth is asked to take part in war. What shall they answer? Answer to War is written in terms for teens to grasp. It gives God's answers to the problem. An excellent reading and study book for all young people and youth leaders.

Answer to War
